Abstract of the paper is very clear and concise. It gives the overall outlook in what to expect of the report. The structure and organization are clear and understanding which resulted in the narration of the report to be like presenting a story. Objective, methodology, equipment used mentioned are very precise and detailed. All aspects required are covered and explained well.

The formatting of the paper could be improved. There's an extra page and extra space in between with no content which is unnecessary. There were three different sets of data for Europium and Uranium it would be better if the data sets were analyzed separately to observe the consistency of the data and the results. The plots and tables could be arranged in a clearer manner. Analysis of data is presented in a nice format, but the explanation of the plots and the conclusions drawn afterwards would need a bit work.

Overall, the content of the experiment including the theory background, and the analysis is done perfectly whereas the presentation of the results could be improved. The structure of the document flows nicely from section to section that makes it easier to comprehend.
